The Talking Circle Speaker Series

What: Native and non-Native artists, performers, and culture bearers have the opportunity to share their knowledge and skill with visitors to Crazy Horse Memorial by offering a 60 minute presentation on a Thursday evening during June, July, or August. The program provides an opportunity for visitors to learn and interact with the presenter about current cultural issues, histories, films, artistic projects, and other matters related to North American Indians.

Who: Native artists, musicians, actors, historians, culture bearers, writers, educators, who are enrolled members of a federally or state recognized tribe, or non-Native cultural experts, historians, writers, etc., working with Native community issues. Qualified applicants will be selected by THE INDIAN MUSEUM OF NORTH AMERICA® staff who administer the program. Applicants will be selected based on experience, topic, fit with the mission of the CHMF, and perceived interest for our audience. It is Crazy Horse Memorial's goal to provide an opportunity for selected professionals to share their knowledge and skill with an international audience providing a greater understanding of Native culture.

Stipend: The selected professional will receive a stipend of $500 (unless otherwise negotiated) for his/her lecture or performance. One meal is provided on the day of the lecture at Laughing Water Restaurant. Hotel accommodations are provided for speakers, the night prior, and the night of their presentation. Accommodations outside the local area can be provided as deemed necessary. Free parking is provided in Lot B.
